

siam Academic Memberships 2008

Benefits of Academic Membership

- Discount on print and/or electronic subscriptions to SIAM's prestigious journals (1997–present)
You may choose from either a customized or a predetermined package of journals, both of which provide your institution with significant savings over regular subscription prices. Upon request and the completion of an Online Journals Subscription Agreement (OJSA), you can receive electronic access to SIAM Journals Online (articles published since 1997) in addition to each print subscription at no additional charge. You can also subscribe to the electronic editions only and save shelf space as well as an additional 5% discount on basic member dues for your selected option.
- Online journal archive
Receive a 20% discount on Locus, SIAM's online journal archive (1952–1996).
- Free student memberships
Free SIAM Student Memberships for graduate students who complete an application and for undergraduate students who are nominated by your institution.
- Book discount
A 30% discount on all SIAM books.
- Additional SIAM News subscriptions
Up to six free subscriptions to SIAM News, delivered to the department and/or individuals of your choice. Potential recipients of these free subscriptions include chairs of mathematics, computer science, and other science and engineering departments, as well as main and department library personnel.
- Additional print subscriptions to other journals
You may choose to receive up to three additional print subscriptions to each of the SIAM journals in your option package at a discounted price of $300 each.
- Back issue discount
A 30% discount on all journal back issue hardcopy and microform prices.
- Notification of important SIAM activities
Journal subscription recipients will receive mailings detailing all of SIAM's conferences, workshops, and short courses.
- Most important
You will be providing a valuable service to the applied mathematics community at your institution.
- Current SIAM Academic Members
A list is available at www.siam.org/membership/academic/academic_members.php.

How to Become a SIAM Academic Member

Please go to www.siam.org/membership/join.php#academic for an application. You may also attach a P.O. to the application if you wish to be billed. If you already subscribe to SIAM journals, we will convert your subscriptions to your membership account. SIAM offers academic memberships to degree-granting institutions or any department within such institutions.

Student Members

Free Graduate Student Memberships (Master's & Ph.D.) are available to ALL GRADUATE STUDENTS who attend an institution that is an Academic Member of SIAM. A list of SIAM Academic Members can be found at: www.siam.org/membership/academic/academic_members.php.

Graduate Student members will receive all issues of SIAM News (print copy), SIAM Review (electronic access only), and two Activity Group membership at NO CHARGE. The student needs to submit a Student Membership Application (www.siam.org/membership/join.php). Please urge your graduate students to join SIAM.

An academic member may nominate for free student memberships in SIAM any full-time undergraduate student within any department using mathematics or computational methods. These student members will receive all issues of SIAM News (print copy), SIAM Review (electronic access only), and two Activity Group membership at NO CHARGE. Please email the students' names, addresses, and e-mail addresses to liberatore@siam.org. Please notify the students that they have been nominated. Undergraduate students may renew their free membership for one additional year after the initial nomination.

Student Chapters

A college or university may sponsor a student chapter of SIAM. The activities of a chapter are largely determined by the initiative and creativity of the faculty advisor and the students. Activities of the chapters may include seminars, participation in section meetings, tours of local industry, and social events. Limited funding for approved student chapters is available from SIAM.

For further information about student chapters, go to www.siam.org/students/chapters or contact Membership Manager Susan Whitehouse at 215-382-9800 x-381 or whitehouse@siam.org.

SIAM News

SIAM News is the newsjournal of the applied mathematics community. It keeps its more than 12,000 readers up to date on the news and issues that affect them, as users of mathematics, through reports on advances and breakthroughs taking place in mathematical research; technical articles written by experts in a wide range of fields; news about university programs, legislation, opportunities in federal funding agencies, and people in the mathematics community; an extensive calendar of upcoming events; and a wide selection of professional employment opportunities.

Complete SIAM News issues are accessible through SIAM's web site (www.siam.org/news/) approximately six weeks after the mail date. Professional opportunity advertisements are posted on the web at approximately the same time that the issue is mailed.

SIAM News will bring your faculty timely information about issues, technical developments, and events that affect their profession (published 10 times a year).

SIAM Books and Monographs

SIAM publishes books in 14 series: Advances in Design and Control; ASA–SIAM Series on Statistics and Applied Probability; CBMS–NSF Regional Conference Series in Applied Mathematics; Classics in Applied Mathematics; Computational Science and Engineering; Frontiers in Applied Mathematics; Fundamentals of Algorithms; Monographs on Discrete Mathematics and Applications; Monographs in Mathematical Modeling and Computation; MPS/SIAM Series on Optimization; Proceedings in Applied Mathematics; Software, Environments and Tools; Studies in Applied Mathematics; and Other Titles in Applied Mathematics. Academic members may purchase SIAM books at a 30% discount off list prices. A catalog of SIAM publications, organized by series, is available upon request or you can view an electronic catalog of SIAM books through our web site (www.siam.org/catalog/).

Standing orders and approval plans are available to bookstores or libraries. These plans allow an institution to receive each specified book within any or all series(s) upon publication.

Departmental Memberships

Academic Departmental Memberships are ideally suited to mathematics and computer science departments of small colleges (non–Ph.D.-granting institutions). Departmental members receive SIAM Review and five copies of SIAM News, and may subscribe to two SIAM journals at a discount. For more information, please contact SIAM Customer Service at membershipinfo@siam.org or at the phone number or address below.

SIAM Journals Online
1997–Present

2008 prices include SJO
plus a print subscription!

Why E-Access?

The researchers at your institution can enjoy the convenience of accessing and searching SIAM journals right at their desktops. The full-text articles from our 14 journals are available in PDF format beginning with the 1997 issues. The tables of contents and abstracts can be searched and browsed free of charge by anyone with Web access.

Significantly Accelerated Electronic Editions

Electronic articles in SIAM's 12 print research journals are published one article at a time, in final form, months ahead of their print counterparts. Subscribers to SIAM Journals Online are able to read and reference this growing repository of peer-reviewed and edited research well in advance of print-only subscribers.

SEEK · EXPLORE · LOCATE

LOCUS locus.siam.org

SIAM's Online Journal Archive
Inception through 1996

Locus contains the electronic full text for every SIAM journal article published from the journal's inception through 1996. Pairing Locus with a subscription to SIAM Journals Online (articles 1997–present) provides immediate, uninterrupted access to all SIAM journal content from the first SIAM article published to today's publications, with current articles going online as soon as they are available. The member institution one-time fee for Locus is $2800 with an annual maintenance fee of $100 beginning in year two of Locus access.

New Features

SIAM's electronic journals have moved to a new hosting and delivery platform; we've joined many other top society scientific and technical journals on the Scitation platform.

This change in platform brings a host of new features to users. Users can download article citations in BiBTeX format as well as in other reference manager types. Given SIAM's e-first, article-by-article publishing process, the RSS feeds and TOC email alerts will be of great use. A sophisticated search interface, including the ability to search over both Locus and SIAM Journals Online content at the same time, helps you find what you need in one search. The existing features of SIAM Journals Online and Locus have been maintained and enhanced, including the inclusion of reference links to MathSciNet, Zentralblatt für Mathematik, Inspec, and MEDLINE, and directly to cited articles via CrossRef. We continue to offer web-based delivery of COUNTER-compliant usage reports for libraries. Go to <http://epubs.siam.org> to check out SIAM's improved e-journal delivery system.

Broad Access and Use Conditions

Institutional access is via IP address. Your SJO subscription allows access to the electronic backfile for the titles you receive, starting with the 1997 volumes. Locus access is to articles published from 1952 to 1996.

Users can print and download articles for personal use; however, entire issues or large groups of individual files may not be systematically downloaded, using either mechanical means or by hand, without permission.

Printouts of the accelerated electronic articles can be used for interlibrary loan and in coursepacks, and the electronic articles can be put on electronic reserve or used for distance learning.

Activation

A completed and signed online journal subscription agreement (OJSA) is required for SIAM Journals Online and Locus, SIAM's Online Journal Archive. Institutional access is granted via IP address. The agreement is located at www.siam.org/journals/ojsa.php.
